Register with either an existing or a new account. After filling out the form and agreeing that ECQA will save your data for the purpose of certification you'll get taken to the ELIC Exam Page...

- A heading: Register an account for ELIC at ELIC Account
- A prompt: Please choose one of the following options:
- Two radio button options:
 - I have registered to the system before and have a username and password.
 - I am a new user and would like to create an account.
- A paragraph of text: "The ISO 17024 standard for certification of persons requires that data from persons and test evidence are stored because certificates can be issued only to identifiable persons and test results must be logged. If you do not agree, we regret that we cannot provide the test or a certificate as a service to you." This text is partially enclosed in a red oval.
- A third radio button option, also enclosed in a red oval: I understand and want to continue.
- Navigation buttons: '<< Back' and 'Finish'.
